RISK ASSESSMENT FOR LIVE EVENTS

RISK ASSESSMENT FOR LIVE EVENTS

This course takes the content for risk assessment from the IOSH Safe Management at Live Events Course distilled into one day. It is designed for event operations staff who do not require, or do not have access to the four day IOSH approved course but require knowledge of how to conduct or contribute to event risk assessment. This can also be used as an introduction to event safety management prior to progressing to the four day IOSH approved course.

The course concludes with an exercise where the delegates will complete an event risk assessment with an industry recognised event risk assessment format.

In house courses cost £1,650.

Places on open courses cost £475.

Course Overview. The course modules are:

- ▶ Why Risk Assessment is Important
- ▶ Introduction to Event Construction and Safety Hazards
- ▶ Introduction to Hazardous Agents and Health Hazards
- ▶ Assessing Risk
- ▶ Controlling Risk
- ▶ Risk Assessment Exercise

X-Venture is the preferred training provider for a large part of the events industry from niche organisations up to the most high-profile global event companies offering courses which are designed for the international market as well as for UK based event companies. From our consultancy and operational work with a wide range of organisers, high footfall venues, event contractors and local authorities we have built up a unique understanding of the industry. Our trainers are all event managers by instinct as well as health, safety and security specialists. Our courses are truly bespoke to the industry, covering the exhibitions (B2B and B2C), entertainment and sports sectors. All our courses are updated at least every 6 months to reflect changes in the law and operational practice. The course director Simon Garrett is a former operations director of an international venue in London. He is a Chartered Fellow of IOSH, and the International Institute of Risk and Safety Management who has worked with event companies on projects and training in the UK, Europe, Africa, Asia, South East Asia and the Americas
